Maideston /2 (Mr. Talbot. Maidstone corruptely for Medwegetoun. Peraventur corruptely for Aliston, for yt stondeth on the river of Aile, and so doeth Alisford /3) is a market town of one long streat wel builded and ful of yynes. The ruler of the town ther is cawlled Port Rive. Ther is yn the town a fair college of prestes. The castel standeth abowt the myddes of the town, being well maynteynid by the Archebisshop of Cant. Ther is the commune gayle or prison of Kent, as yn the shire town.

Ailesford.

/A1 The next pages concerning Kent, as far as pp. 70, 71 (p. 145 of the MS.) are taken from Leland's 'Collectanea,' vol. iii, pp. 126-45 (MS. Gen. top. c. 3) printed by Hearne as part of the Appendix to his vol. vii (p. 115). We thus have together all Leland's notes on Kent, the narrative for which was probably never written; he regarded the county as 'the key [i.e. quay] of al England;' and evidently contemplated an important portion of his work thereon. See p. 57.

/A2 These names were written, like others in the quarto MSS., with spaces between them to be filled in.

/A3 These two interlined notes may have been written at different times, though both by Leland. The first stands on the left, the other on the right of the title 'Maideston.'. Hearne says this was 'Master Talbot of Norwiche' quoted by Leland. Burton (a) fos. 157 to middle of p. 162 copied (with some omissions) the portion of this part from 'Maideston' above to the end of the paragraph beginning 'The water of Stur;' on p. 70.

Pag. 127.

Sandwic, on the farther side of the ryver of Sture, is meaty welle walled wher the town stondeth most in jeopardy of ennemies. The residew of the town is dichid and mudde waullid. Ther be yn the town iii. principal gates, iii. paroche chyrches, of the which sum suppose that S. Marye's was sumtyme a nunnery. Ther be a place of Whit freres, and an hospital withowt the town fyrst ordened for maryners desesid and hurt. Ther is a place wher the monkes of Christ Chirch did resort when they were lordes of the towne.

The caryke that was sonke yn the haven yn Pope Paulus tyme did much hurt to the haven, and gether a great banke. The grounde self from Sandwiche to the haven, and inward to the land is caullid Sanded Bay.

Syr Eduard Ringesle hath a tour, or pile, byyond the mouth of the haven on the shore.

Stonard /a ys yn Thanet, sumtyme a prety town not far from Sandwich. Now appereth alonly the ruine of the chirch. Sum ignorant people cawle yt Old Sandwiche.

Deale, half a myle fro the shore of the se, a fisschcher village iii. myles or more above Sandwice, is apon a flat shore and very open to the se, wher is a fosse or a great bank artificial betwixt the towne and se, and beginneth aboute Deale, and rennith a great way up toward S. Margaret's Clyfe, yn so much that sum suppose that this is the place where Caesar landed ‘in aperto litore.’ Surely the fosse was made to kepe owte ennemyes there, or to defend the rage of the se; or I think rather the castinge up beche or pible.

Northburn ii. myles and more from the Se almost againe Deale. A ii. myles or more fro Sandwich, from Northburn cummeth a little fresch water yn to Sandwich haven. At Northburn was the palayce, or maner, of Edbalde Ethelbert's Sunne. There but a few yeres syns yn breking a side of the walle yn the hawle were found ii. childerns bones that had bene mured up as yn burielle yn tyme of Paganite of the Saxons. Among one of the childerns bones was found a styffe pynne of laten.

Walmer is about a mile from Dele shore, and looke, as from the farther syde of the mouth of Dovre the shore is low to Walmer, so is the shore al cliffy and hy from Walmere to the very point of Dovar Castel, and there the shore falleth flat, and a little beyound the toune of Dovar the shore clyvith to Folkestone.

From Walmer to S. Margarete's ii., and 2. miles to Dovar. One Thomas Laurence in Bisshop Morton's dayes made a pere or gitty at S. Margarete's.

Dovar ys xii. myles fro Cantorbury, and viii. myles fro Sandwich. There hath bene a haven yn tyme past, and yn token therof the ground that lyith up betwyxt the hilles is yet in digging fownd wosye. Ther hath be fownd also peces of cabelles and anchores, and ‘Itinerarium Antonini’ cawleth hyt by the name of a havon. The towne on the front toward the se hath bene right strongly walled and embateled, and almost al the residew; /2 but now yt is partly fawlen downe, and broken downe. Cougate, Crosse gate, Bochery gate, stoode with toures toward the se. There is beside Betingate and Westegate. The residew of the town, as far as I can perceyve, was never waullled. (Howbeyt M. Tuine /1 tol me a late that yt hath be waalled abowt, but not dyked.) The towe is devided in to vi. paroches, whereof iii. be under one rofe at S. Martines yn the hart of the town. The other iii. stand abrode, of the which one is cawled S. James of Rudyby, or more likely Rodeby, ‘a statione navium.’ But this word is not sufficient to prove that Dovar shoulde be that place, the which the Romaynes cawled portus Rutupi or Rutupinum. For I can not yet se the contrary but Rates=boro, otherwise cawled Richeboro by Sandwich, both ways corruptly, must neades be Rutupinum. The mayne, strong, and famose castel of Dovar stondeth on the toppe of a hille almost a quarter of a myle of fro the towne on the lyft side, and within the castel is a chapel, yn the sides wherof appere sum greate Briton brykes. In the town was a great priory of Blake monkes, late suppressed. Ther is also an hospitalle cawllled the Meason Dew. On the toppe of the hye clive betwene the towe and the peere remayneth yet, abowt a flyte shot up ynto the land fro the very brymme of the se clyffe, a ruine of a towr, the which hath bene as a pharos or a mark to shyppe on the se; and therby was a place of Templarys. As concernyng the river of Dovar it hath no long cowrse from no spring or hedde notable that descendith to that botom. The principal hed, as they say, is at a place cawllled Ewwelle, /a and that is not past a iii. or iiii. myles fro Dovar. Ther be springes of frech waters also at a place cawllled Rivers. Ther is also a great spring at a place cawllled . . . and that ones in a vi. or vii. yeres brasteth owt so abundantly, that a great part of the water cummeth into Dovar streme, but els yt renneth yn to the se bytwyxt Dovar and Folchestan, but nerer to Folchestan, that is to say withyn a ii. myles of yt. Surely the hedde standeth so that it might with no great cost be brought to run alway into Dovar streme.

Pag. 128.

S. Radegundis /a standeth on the toppe of a hille iii. little myles by west and sumwhat by sowth fro Dovar. There be white chanons, and the quier of the chyrche is large and fayr. The monastery ys at this tyme metely mayntayned, but yt appereth that yn tymes past the buildinges have bene ther more ample then they be now. There is on the hille fayre wood, but frech water laketh sumtyme.

Reculver ii. myles and more be water, and a mile dim. by land, beyownd Heron, ys fro Cantorbyr v. goode myles, and stondeth withyn a quarter of a myle or litle more of the se syde. The towne at this tyme is but village lyke. Sumtyme wher as the paroche chirch is now was a fayre and a great abbay, and Brightwald archbisshop of Cant. was of that howse. The old building of the chirch of the abbay mayneth having ii. goodly spiring steples. Yn the enteryng of the quyer ys one of the fayrest, and the most auncyent crosse that ever I saw, a ix. footes, as I ges, yn highte. It standeth lyke a fayr columne. The base greate stone ys not wrought. The second stone being rownd hath curiously wrought and paynted the images of Christ, Peter, Paule, John and James, as I remember. Christ sayeth, ego sum Alpha et ω. Peter sayith, Tu es Christus filius dei vivi. The saing of the other iii. wher painted majusculis literis Ro. but now obliterated. The second stone is of the Passion. The iii. conteineth the xii. Apostles. The iii. hath the image of Christ hanging and fastened with iii. nayles, and sub pedibus sustentaculum. The hiest part of the pyller hath the figure of a crosse. In the chirch is a very auncient boke of the Evangelyes in majusculis literis Ro. and yn the bordes therof ys a chrystal stone thus inscribid: CLAVDIA. ATE= PICCVS. Yn the north side of the chirch is the figure of a bishop paynted under an arch. In digging abowte the chirch yard they find old bokels of girdels and ring. The hole pre= cint of the monastery appereth by the old walle, and the vicarage was made of ruines of the monastery. Ther is a neglect chapel owt of the chirch yard wher sum say was a paroch chirch or the abbay was suppressed and given to the bishop of Cant. Ther hath bene much Romain mony fownd abowt Reculver.

The walles the wich remayn ther yet be in cumpase almost as much as the Tower of London. They have bene very hye, thykke, stronge and wel embateled. The mater of them is flynt, mervelus and long brykes both white and rede after the Britons fascion. The sement was made of se sand and smaal pible. Ther is a great lykelyhod that the goodly hil abowte the castel, and especially to Sandwich ward hath bene wel inhabited. Corne groweth on the hille yn mervelus plenty, and yn going to plowgh ther hath owt of mynde fownd and now is no antiquites of Romayne mony then yn any place els of England. Surely reason speketh that this should be Rutupinum. For byside that the name sumwhat toucheth, the very nere passage fro Cales clyves or Cales was to Ratesburgh, and now is to Sandwich, the which is about a myle of; though now Sandwich be not celebrated by cause of Goodwine Sandes, and the decay of the haven. Ther is, a good flyte shot of fro Ratesburgh toward Sandwich, a great dike caste yn a rownd cumpas, as yt had bene for tens of menne of warre. The cumpase of the grownd withyn is not much above an acre, and yt is very holo by casting up the yerth. They cawle the place there Lytleborough. Withyn the castel is a lytle paroche chirch of S. Augustine, and an heremitage. I had antiquites of the heremite the which is an industrius man. Not far fro the heremitage is a cave wher men have sowt and digged for treasure. I saw yt by candel withyn, and there were conys. Yt was so straite that I had no mynd to crepe far yn. In the north side of the castel ys a hedde yn the walle, now sore defaced with wether. They cawle yt Quene Bertha Hedde. Nere to that place hard by the wal was a pot of Romayne mony fownd.

Fines a French man was gardian or capitain of [Dover] in King John dayes, or ever Hubertus de Burgo had it. The knight service of Castellegarde in Dover Castelle was instituid about King John's tyme.

Mr. Finche the knight hath a rolle of this geree. Hubertus de Burgo the first founder of the old chirche of the Maeson Dieu in Dover. Henry the 3. founder of the new chirch. The cliffes from Dover welle toward Folkestene be al of chalk, and after up to Limme Hil of stone that is very hard, and sum be of a depe blew colour.

Folchestan ys a v. miles fro Dover, and be al gesse stondeth very directly apon Boleyn. The Lord Clynton is lorde of the town of Folkestane. There cummeth to the towne a pretty smawli ryelet that riseth yn Folchstan parche, longing to the Lord Clynton, or not beyownd yt. The towne shore be al lykellith is merivelusly sore wasted with the violens of the se; yn so much that there they say that one paroche chyrch of our Lady, and a nother of S. Paule ys clene stroyed and etin by the se. Hard apon the shore ys a place called the Castel Yard, the which on the one side ys dyked, and ther yn be great ruines of a solenne old nunnery, yn the walles wherof yn divers places aper great and long Briton brikes; and on the right hond of the quier a grave trunce of squared stone. The castel yard hath bene a place of great burial; yn so much as wher the se hath wornen on the banke bones aper half stykyng owt. The paroch chyrch ys therby, made also of sum newer worke of an abbay. Ther is S. Eanswide buried, and a late therby was a visage of a priory. Toward a quarter of a myle owt of the town is a chapel of S. Botulfe on a likelyhod of farther building sumtyme. Yn the towne ther is a maire; and this Lord Clynton's grant father had there of a poore man a boote almost ful of antiques of pure gold and sylver.

A cony drawing his yerth betwyxt Folkestan and Hyve did cast up antique mony.

Hithath bene a very great towne yn lenght, and conteyned iiii. paroches that now be clene destroied, that is to say S. Nicolas paroche, our Lady paroch, S. Michael's paroche, and our Lady of Westhithe, the which is with yn lesse then half a myle of Lymme Hille. And yt may be well supposed that after the haven of Lymme, and the great old town ther fayled, that Hithath strayte therby encresed and was yn price. Finally to cownt fro Westhyve to the place wher the substans of the towne ys now ys ii. good myles in length, al along on the shore to the which the se cam ful sumtyme, but now by bankinge of woose and great casting up of shyngeil the se ys sumtyme a quarter, sumtyme dim. a myle fro the old shore. In the tyme of King Edward the 2. there were burned by casuelte xviii. score howses and mo, and strayt folowed great pestilens, and thes ii. thinges minished the town. There remayne yet the ruines of the chyrches and chyrch yarid. It evidently apereth that wher the paroch chirche is now was sumtyme a fayr abbay. Yn the quire be fayre and many pylers of marble, and under the quier a very fair vaute, also a faire olde dore of stone, by the which the religius folkes cam yn at mydnight. In the top of the chyrch yard is a fayr spring, and therby ruines of howses of office of the abbey; and not far of was an hospital of a gentilman infected with lepre. The castel of Saltwood is not past halfe a myle of, and at this day Hithe is but a chapel perteining to Saltwood paroch. The havyn is a pretty rode, and liith meatly strayt for passage owt of Boleyn. Yt croketh yn so by the shore a long, and is so bakked fro the mayn se with casting of shinggil, that smaal shippes may cum up a larg myle toward Folkestan as yn a sure gut. Lymme Hille or Lyme was sumtyme a famose haven, and good for shyppes that myght cum to the foote of the hille. The old castel of Lyme longed to Richard Knight of Hyve late decesid. The place ys yet cawled Shypwey and Old Haven. Farther at this day the Lord of the v. Portes kepeth his principal cowrt a lylle by est fro Lymmehil. Ther re= mayneth at this day the ruines of a stronge fortresse of the Britons hangging on the hil, and cummyng down to the very fote. The cumpase of the forteresse semeth to be a x. acres, and be lykelyhod yt had sum walle beside that strecchid up Shepway. Here was the old court of the Cinque Ports. Boulogne in France. Lympne. to the very top of the hille, wher now ys the paroch chirche and the archidiacon’s howse of Cantorbury. The old walles of the made of Britons brikes, very large and great flynt set together almost indissolubely with morters made of smaule pybble. The walles be very thikke, and yn the west end of the castel appereth the base of an old towre. About this castel yn tyme of mind were fownd antiquites of mony of the Romaynes. Ther as the chirch is now was sumtyme without fayle an abbay. The graves yet appere yn the chirch, and of the lodging of the abbay be now converted ynto the archidiacon’s howse, the wich ys made lyke a castelet embatelyd. Ther went fro Lymme to Cantorbury a streate fayr paved, wherof at this day yt is cawled Stony Streat. Yt is the straytest that ever I sawe, and toward Cantorbury ward the pavement continually appereth a iiii. or v. myles. Ther cummeth at this day thorough Lymme castel a little rylle, and other prety waters resort to the places abowt Lymmehil; but where the ryver Limene should be I can not tel, except yt should be that that cummeth above Appledor . . . iii. . . . /2 myles of, and that ys cowrs ys now chaunged, and renneth a nerer way ynto the se by the encreasing of Rumeneys marsh that was sumtyme al se. Bellirica, alias Belcaire, & Cowrt-up-strete.

Court-up-strete, alias Bellirica, longeth to one M. Col= uyle knight. Billirica is a bowte a myle fro Lymme Hille, and at this day yt is a membre of Lymmme paroche. Howbeyt ther is a chaple for the howses ther that now remayne, and this is the chaple communely cawled our Lady of Cowrt-up-streate, wher the nunne of Cantorbiry wrought al her fals miracles. Hard by this chapel apere the old ruines of a castelet, wherbi yt may be thowthe that the place and the towne ther was cawled Bellirica, as who should say yn Latyne Bellocas=trum, and that the new name of Court-up-streate began by reason of the place, or court, that the lord of the soyle kept there. The commune voyce is ther that the town hath bene large, and they shoe now theyr signa praetoriana, that is to say a horne garnished with brasse and a mace. But the like=lyhod ys that they longed to Lymme, sumtyme a notable town and haven.

Rumeney a iii. myles or more fro Lymmehil.

Rumeney is one of the v. portes, and hath bene a metely good haven, yn so much that withyn remembrance of men shyppes have cum hard up to the towne, and cast ancre yn one of the chyrch yardes. The se is now a ii. myles fro the towne, so sore therby now decayed that where ther wher iii. great paroches and chirches sumtyme is now scant one wel mayteined.

Rumeney marsch ys from Lymmehil upward a x. myles yn lenght, and where yt is most bowt a v. myles yn bredeth, and that as I suppose now is abowt the towne of Rumeney. The marsch of Rumeney encresith dayly yn breede. But yt is not yn al places of lyke breede, for yn sum place yt is ii. myles, yn sum iii. myles, yn sum iii. and v. myles over. It is a mervelus rank grownd for fedyng of catel, by the reason that the gresse groweth so plentefullly apon the wose sum=tyme cast up ther by the se.

The very towne of Rumeney, and a ii. myles abowt yt, was alway by lykelyhod dry land, and ons, as yt is supposed, the se cam abowte hyt, or at the lest abowt the greatest part of yt.

Lydde is countid as a parte of Rumeney, is a iii. /1 myles beyond Rumeney town, and is a market. The town ys of a prety quantite, and the townesch men use botes to the se, the which at this tyme is a myle of. The hole town is con=teyned yn one paroche, but that is very large. In the mydde way (or ther abowt) betwixt Rumeney town and Lyd the marsch land beginneth to nesse and arme yn to the se, and contynueth a prety way beyond Lydde, and runnyng ynto a poynt yt standeth as an arme, a foreland, or a nesse.

Ther is a place beyond Lydde, wher as a great numbre of holme trees groueth apon a banke of baches throwen up by the se, and there they bat fowle, and kil many birdes.

/1 In the MS. the figure 2 is written over 3, as a correction.

Appledor (of sum is contid as a membre of Rumeney) ys yn Kent a market town, and hath a goodly chirch riding yn Kent, and our Lady of Ebny yn Oxeneye.

Sitingburn, alias Sidingburne, is a pretty thorowgh fare of one paroche, and by the chirch renneth a little burne or riile, wherof peraventure the towne toke name. Yt is xii.
myles fro Cantorbury, vii. myles fro Faversham, viii. long myles fro Rochester.

Thong castel a long myle a side of Sitingburn was made, as sum say, of Hengist and the Saxons. The diches and ruines of this castel yet apere a ii. flyte shot from the chirch of Thong.

Faversham is a market town franchised with a sanctuary, and hath a great abbey of blake monknes of the fundation of King Stephane. The towne is enclosed yn one paroche, but that ys very large. Ther cummeth a creke to the towne that bereth vessels of xx. tunnes, and a myle fro thens north est is a great key cawled Thorn to disscharge bygge vessels.
The creke is fedde with a bakke water that cummeth fro Ospring a thorowgh fare a myle and more of, wher was sum= tyme a Meason de Dieu, that now longeth to S. John's yn Cambrige. Herteye joyning to Shepeye liyth agaynt Favers=

Cantorbiry for the most part of the towne stondeth on the farther side of the River of Sture, the which by a probable conjecture I suppose was cawilled in the Britans tyme Avona.
For the Romayn cawilled Canterbury Duravennum, corruptully, for of Dor and Avona we shuld rather say Doravona, or Doravonum. The river yn one place runneth thorowgh the cite wall, the which is made there with ii. or iii. arches for the curse of the streme. Canterbury ys v /2 myles fro the se flat north agaynst Heron. Lanfrance, and Sudbury, the which was hedded /3 by Jakke Strawe, were great repayrers of the cite. Sudbury builded the west gate, and made new and repaired to gither fro thens to the north gate, and wolde have done lykewise abowt al the town yf he had lyved. The mayr of the town and the aldermen ons a yere cum solemnly to his tumbe to pray for his sowle yn memory of his good deade. The most auncyent building of the towne appereth yn the castel, and at Ryders Gate, where appere long Briton bridges. Withowt the town at S. Pancrace's Chapel and at
S. Martin’s appere also Briton brikes.

1 This bracketed sentence is written by Burton (a) fo. 161, between the passages as to Heron and Canterbury, as though it were copied from Leland. But it is not in the original MS., nor is there any space for it in that part of p. 144. Burton must have transferred it from some=where else.

The maner of Frogenhale, communely caullid Frogenolle, yoinith to the quarteres of Thong Castelle in Kent by Siding= burne, and is of a xiv. li. rent by yere. Of this very auncient house was a knight that did great feates in France, and is written of.

Frogenhalle that is now was sunne to one of the Sainct
Johns doughters the beste of that stokke: and this Sainct
John of Bedforde, or Northamptonshir had vi. or vii.
doughters that after were very welle maried. And Sainct John beyng deade the Duke of Somerset maried his wife, and begot only Margaret of her, that after was maried to Edmund Erle of Richemont father to King Henry the vii.
And by this meanes were the S. Johns annexid by consanguinite to King Henry the vii. There was a nother of the Sainct Johns a blak and a big felow that died at Fonterabye in Spayne when the late Marquise of Dorset was there, and heire to this Sainct John [was the] yong Sainct John that maried Mr. Whetehilles daughter of the Marches of Calays. And this yong S. John is sun and heyre to the doughter and heyre of Sir John Eversby late knight of Southsax.

This yong S. John's father caulid, as I remembre, Oliver, had gyven hym a peace of land by King Henry the vii. of the attainted landes of the Erle of Lincoln caulid Sayes Crofte, /1 lying in the meades toward Grenewiche.

Mr. Sulmo hath welle the genealogy of S. John and Somersettes.

My lorde of Rutheland told me that about Henry the secondes tyme Ros maried the eldest of the 3. sisters of Espec, wherby Espec's landes cam partely to the Roses.

At Bobbing a mile from Sidingborne is a fair maner, and a stronge dry place of flynte by it. This maner ons longid to the Molyes, then to the Salvages, and now to the Clifford. The elder brother of the Cliffordes of Kent sold it to Syr Thomas Neville: and the yongger brother redemid it to hym and his heires. This elder Clifford hath yet a maner by Boxie in Kent caulid Sutton Valaunce /b wher was a park.

Ther was a poore hospital a mile beyond Sidingburne caulid Pokeshaule. King Henry the vii. gave it to Linche his phisisian, and Linche gave it to a sunne of his. I supose that it is now quite doune.

Higheham /c a poore priory of nunnes about a iii. miles above Grevesende in Kent on the shore was suppressid by Fisshar Bisshop of Rochesters meanes, and given to S. John's College in Cantebridge. Sum say that King Stephan was founder of it, and that his [systar was nunne ther.]
